

as a trucker we use are xm to find out what's happening head by using the weather and traffic chanel better than trying to find a local channel in the area by flipping around when you are new too the area but you people have no ideal what it is like driving a truck in bumper to bumper traffic and finding exits.